

Intensive English Center Spring 2026 Housing Application

By submitting an on-campus housing request through the Intensive English Center Application, you acknowledge and agree to adhere to all Stony Brook University policies and expectations of Campus Residences when accepting a room assignment to live on campus.

Billing and Financial Liability

Once you submit your on-campus housing request as part of your Intensive English Center application, you have committed to your housing agreement. You may cancel your request prior to arrival. As part of the housing agreement, residents acknowledge that once they are assigned a space in campus housing and accept the key at check-in, they are financially liable for the full duration of the housing agreement, even if they subsequently choose to move out of campus housing. Students' accounts will be billed directly for housing costs. Full details can be found on our Financial Liability website.

Cancellation Request Date:	Termination Fee:
January 15 or earlier	$100
January 16 until the Saturday before classes start	$200
Sunday before classes start and later	$500

Arrival and Departure:

Our move-in and move-out website provides information related to what to bring, when to check in, and when you will have to move out. You may arrive as early as Monday, January 5, and should plan to arrive no later than Wednesday, January 21.

Housing Assignments and Rates

Students participating in the Intensive English Center program are housed in our corridor-style first-year communities. You may request a single or shared room. Our virtual tours provide example layouts. Our housing is charged by semester. Visit our Rates and Fees webpage for more information. Additionally, you are required to have a meal plan.

Assignments are made between December 26 and the Tuesday before the start of spring semester classes. Assignment notifications are sent from reside@stonybrook.edu.

Acceptance of the Terms of Occupancy and the Housing Agreement

The Terms of Occupancy detail the policies and procedures by which all residents of the on-campus housing must abide. The terms stipulate minimum expectations that must be met by all residents. Students are expected to read the entire Terms of Occupancy as part of their housing agreement. These terms are in addition to the other policies, such as the Student Code of Responsibility. For more information, please visit our Policies Website.

Acknowledgment of Risk for Residential Fitness Facilities

By entering any of the Residential Fitness Facilities (Residential Fitness Centers and/or Residential Fitness Rooms) or Southampton Campus Fitness Center, the user waives all claims against Stony Brook University. The user will not hold Campus Residences or Stony Brook University liable for any injuries, damages, or such losses while using these facilities. In addition, the user certifies that they are insured either under the Student Health Policy available through the University or are covered under a personal insurance policy. Users acknowledge that they must abide by the standards set forth and understand that failure to meet these standards will result in the revocation of access to such spaces and conduct referral. For full details regarding the use of Residential Fitness Facilities, visit the Residence Hall Terms of Occupancy.